Dasara Drone Show on Oct. 11 and 12

Ban on illegal Drone Videos

Drone shooting of illuminated Mysuru city streets also prohibited

CESC to register cybercrime cases against offenders

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (BCT)- Taking serious objection to many private individuals using drones to capture the footage of the Drone Show held at the Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap and posting it on their social media accounts, the Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (CESC) has imposed a ban on flying drones to record the Drone Show.

The grand Drone Show (free for audience) took place on Oct. 6 and 7, was a resounding success, earning widespread appreciation from the audience. Another two ticketed shows will be held on Oct. 11 (for Torchlight Parade rehearsals) and 12 (grand finale of Jumboo Savari).

A press release from CESC this morning stated that during the Drone Show, it was observed that some private organisations and individuals were flying unauthorised drones to record the events. These clips, captured without authorisation, were subsequently shared on various social media platforms, infringing copyrights.

Meghalaya Governor visits
Sri Yoganarasimhaswamy Temple

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (MK&DM)- The Governor of Meghalaya, C.H. Vijayashankar, visited Sri Yoganarasimhaswamy Temple in Vijayanagar here on Monday.

On his arrival at the temple, the Governor was accorded a traditional 'purna kumbha' welcome by the Temple Trust, led by Prof. Sri Bhashyam Swamiji.

Subsequently, he offered special prayers to Lord Yoganarasimhaswamy and inaugurated Sudarshana Homa, a ritual that is part of the Dasara festivities, by lighting a giant agarbathi (incense stick) in the temple premises.

The 12-day ritual will culminate in a grand Mahabhisheka on Vijayadashami Day, followed by the purification of the temple, informed Srinivas, a senior priest at the temple.

This Saturday (Oct.12), the Sudarshana Homa is scheduled to take place as part of the ongoing festivities.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

NAVARATRI CHANTING: During Navaratri, women chant the powerful Lalitha Sahasranamam, either individually or in groups, with complete devotion every day. For centuries, generations of women have followed this daily ritual of lighting the lamp and praying to Lalithambigai of Tirumeeyachur for Her grace and blessings as She is an embodiment of Lakshmi, Saraswati and Parvati, said P. Swaminathan in a discourse.

How did She manifest in Tirumeeyachur in Tiruvarur district of Tamil Nadu? The Sun God slighted his charioteer Arunan, due to which he lost his lustre, and the world its prosperity. When devotees prayed to Parvati for deliverance, She begged Siva to restore the Sun's brightness. Siva pointed out that the Sun had to repent for his arrogance for seven months. At the end of his penance, when he did not regain his glory, the Sun God complained bitterly, at which Parvati, exasperated with his prevailing ego, was about to curse him. Siva stepped in and suggested She reside in Tirumeeyachur to regain Her calm. When Her anger failed to subside, a devata arose from Her lips and rendered Lalitha Sahasranamam, appeasing the Goddess.

Legend has it that Lalithambigai appeared in the dream of a devout woman in Karnataka and laughingly mentioned She lacked anklets. The devotee, wanting to remedy that, rushed to Tirumeeyachur but the priests informed her that the deity lacked provision for anklets. As she returned home disappointed, Lalithambigai again appeared in her dream. Simultaneously, the priests found that a provision for an anklet had mysteriously appeared on the deity. A true devotee is always cared for by Lalithambigai. — In The Hindu

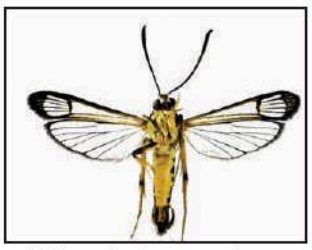
Moth travels 7,000-km in woman's bag!



Wales: A photographer accidentally brought a new type of moth to the UK in her suitcase. The moth had travelled thousands of miles from South America. Scientists were surprised to find it in Wales.

The photographer had brought the moth's larvae with her in her suitcase. The larvae had hatched and pupated in the suitcase during the journey. When the photographer arrived in the UK, the moths emerged from their cocoons. The moths were discovered by a young ecologist named Daisy Cadet. Daisy was surprised to find the moths in her mother's home.

Daisy posted photos of the moths on social media, and scientists from the Natural History Museum identified them as a new species. The moth, which has been named Carmenta brachyclados, is a clearwing moth. It is native to Guyana, South America.

Heat turns store sign into horror

Tokyo: A small Japanese clothing store has gone viral after its sign featuring a cute baby turned into a horror attraction due to the intense heat and sunlight over the last couple of years.

Hangai, a clothing store in Nagahama City, had the same sign board for 10 years – an adorable baby with a speech bubble that reads "We have lots of good, cheap things". However, last year, after a particularly hot summer, the sign changed into an eerie sight, with the baby's eyes and mouth becoming black. Due to heat and direct sunlight, the dark colours of the sign became charred, creating a terrifying sight. Things got even worse this year, after another scorching summer. The heat made the store sign even scarier, with the baby's face now strangely dark, as if it had come out of a fire.

REALLY...?

- The popularity of incense sticks continued to grow as it spread across Asia. In India, Ayurvedic medicine embraced the use of incense for its therapeutic benefits. It became an integral part of yoga and meditation practices, aiding in concentration and relaxation.
- In China, incense was deeply rooted in Taoist and Buddhist traditions. Monks burned incense as an offering to deities and as a means to purify the mind and body. The art of incense appreciation, known as Kohdo, emerged during the Tang Dynasty, elevating the use of incense to a refined cultural practice.

Chaos atop Chamundi Hill during Dasara holidays

Sir,

It is regrettable to witness chaotic scenes atop Chamundi Hill during this Dasara, particularly this past Sunday. Private cars were parked too close to the ticket counter, while ample space on the Temple's north side was occupied by iron beams and frames from ongoing construction work, obstructing the free movement of devotees.

With a significant influx of pilgrims expected during Dasara holidays, the construction work should have been completed before the fest or postponed until after. This would have allowed the space to be utilised for parking VVIPs, VIPs, or those who cannot walk long distances, as well as providing room for Police on duty and allowing devotees to move freely without the risk of injury from crossing the iron frames. Introducing battery-operated vehicles could help reduce congestion by transporting senior citizens and people with disabilities from the parking lot to the temple. Additionally, a complete parking ban should be enforced during Dasara, Ashada Fridays and extended holidays.

It may also be worthwhile to consider prohibiting private vehicles on the hill during these times, similar to Ashada Fridays, and using KSRTC buses to transport devotees, potentially for a fare if not free. This approach could significantly alleviate vehicular chaos atop the hill during Dasara, especially on holidays.

Copyrights Vs Dasara Nada Habba events

Sir,

Apropos the news item 'Shreya Ghoshal's crooning leaves audience wanting for more' (SOM dated Oct. 7), it raises a pertinent issue about potential copyright infringement if the show were to be webcast. Why is there no established copyright for Nada Habba celebrations with the State Government?

After substantial payments are made to the star performers, their contracts often include various hooks and disclaimers. This situation sadly tarnishes the authentic fervour and spirit of Dasara for the public.

Given that the venue is quite remote, those who might have experienced the 'Yuva Dasara Energy' through a webcast are now deprived of that opportunity. It seems that copyrights have taken precedence over Nada Habba — and copyrights win!?

First round of Jumboo Savari rehearsal held at Palace

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (MTY&KS)- To make Dasara elephants know about the procedures to be followed and acclimatise them to the crowd and sound during Jumboo Savari, the grand finale of Dasara festivities which will be held on Oct. 12, the first round of Jumboo Savari inauguration rehearsal was held successfully at Mysore Palace premises here this morning.

In all, six platoons of Armed Police force from CAR and Railway Police, Home Guards, two Mounted Police battalions and Police Band, led Ambari elephant Abhimanyu with Kumki elephants Lakshmi and Hiranya on either side to the stage specially erected for the dignitaries to shower flower petals on the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari placed inside the Golden Howdah, marking the formal inauguration of Dasara procession.

When Abhimanyu reached the stage, MLA T.S. Srivatsa, DCPs M. Muthuraju (Law and Order) and S. Jahnavi (Crime and Traffic), CAR DCP Maruthi, Palace ACP Chandrashekar, CAR ACP Ashok, Devaraja ACP Shanthamallappa and DCF (Wildlife) Dr. I.B. Prabhu Gowda showered petals on Abhimanyu and took the salute.

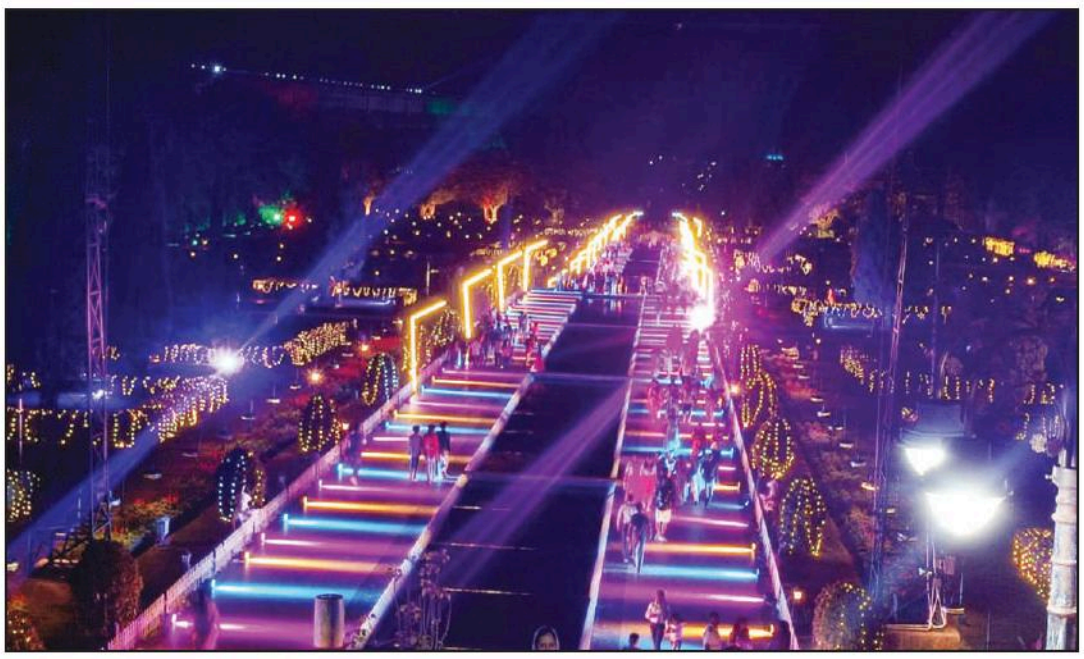
When the Police Band played National Anthem, 21 shots were fired using seven cannons during which the dignitaries showered petals on the elephants. Mounted Police Commandant V. Shailendra was the Group Commander while S.D. Sasanur was the Assistant Group Commander during the rehearsal today.

DCF Dr. Prabhu Gowda said that today's Jumboo Savari rehearsal was successfully held inside the Palace premises.

Pointing out that the rehearsal was held to make the elephants get used to the sound of the Police Band and other types of sounds which occur during Jumboo Savari, the DCF said that the second and final round of rehearsal will be held tomorrow.

Flower show, illumination at Brindavan Gardens till Oct. 20

Mandya, Oct. 9 (BCT)- As part of Dasara, a vibrant flower show and spectacular illumination display have been organised at the Brindavan Gardens, located at Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam in Srirangapatna Taluk, Mandya District. This captivating show will run beyond Oct. 12, till Oct. 20.



As part of the illumination efforts, the entire Garden is adorned with brilliant serial lights, creating a mesmerising experience for visitors. Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) has invested crores of rupees to redesign lighting, including serial and display lights, along with water fountains.

The outdated water fountains have been completely reconstructed and redesigned to feature cascading water synchronised with music, powered by cutting-edge technology.

New fountains, equipped with nozzles that emit laser beams, fire and snow — along with movable and rotating nozzles — dances to musical beats, offering a visually stunning spectacle for tourists. Even the trees and greenery within Brindavan Gardens have been illuminated to enhance the ambiance.

Flower show boasts intricate floral replicas, including Sriranganathaswamy, Goddess Cauvery, Radha Krishna, Karnataka Suvarna Sambhrama, Gandabherunda (royal insignia of Mysore Royal Family) and several beloved cartoon characters, providing an enchanting experience for all.

CNNL officials informed Star of Mysore this morning that the special flower show and illumination at Brindavan Gardens have been organised as part of Mysuru Dasara festivities.

"From now until Oct. 12, between 6.30 pm and 10 pm, a variety of cultural programmes will be held, featuring popular playback singers Hemanth and Chandan Shetty, along with performances of folk songs, comedy acts and musical and dance troupes," an official said.

He further noted, "With the focus on Mysuru Dasara, city illumination and Yuva Dasara, tourist numbers at KRS have been lower. However, we expect large crowds from Oct. 11 to Oct. 20. While the cultural events will run until Oct. 12, the illumination and flower show will continue until Oct. 20."

The flower show was inaugurated by Agriculture and Mandya District Minister N. Cheluvarayaswamy last evening. PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, Srirangapatna MLA Rameshbabu Bandisiddegowda, Melukote MLA Darshan Puttannaiah K.R. Pet MLA H.T. Manju and MLC Vivekananda were present.

In his address, Cheluvarayaswamy expressed confidence that the special illumination and flower show would draw thousands of tourists to Brindavan Gardens. "While the illumination has been a long-standing tradition, this year it has been enhanced to be even more captivating," he added.

Mandya DC Dr. Kumara, CNNL Superintending Engineer Raghuram, Executive Engineer Jayanth, Horticulture Secretary Ramesh, Director Roopashree and Assistant Director Sowmya were also present.

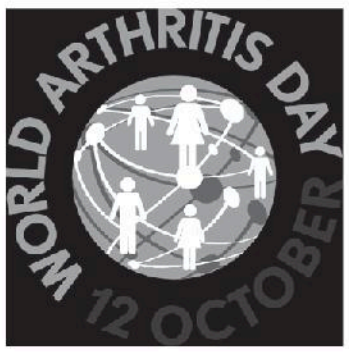
ARTHRITIS, NOT A CONDITION DUE TO AGEING BUT A DISEASE TO BE TREATED



Rheumatological diseases are perceived to be diseases of the joints alone; but these are systemic diseases which can involve any organ system or multiple organ systems caused due to an autoimmune phenomenon. There are over 200 distinct Rheumatological diseases and each of them have varied presentations which left untreated or inadequately treated has long term implications with respect to the patients' health and social indices in a society. These diseases can affect any age group including children as well as young adults and the middle-aged population. They are not a disease of the only elderly as perceived. There are more than 100 different diseases that can cause arthritis. Common ones are Osteoarthritis, Rheumatoid Arthritis, Ankylosing spondylitis, Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (Lupus), Sjogrens syndrome, Gout, Viral arthritis, inflammatory myositis, systemic vasculitis, Fibromyalgia and Psoriatic Arthritis. Rheumatology is a branch of Medicine, which deals with Rheumatological diseases. These diseases are preferably treated by a Rheumatologist or a physician trained in Rheumatology. Early identification of Rheumatological diseases with early diagnostic investigations, management with disease modifying drugs, and long-term planning of treatment essential for comprehensive management and to improve patient outcomes. All Rheumatological diseases are systemic diseases with a high inflammatory burden, which in the long run is harmful for various vital organs involved. No organ is spared in autoimmune diseases and hence prompt control of the same is needed. Early intervention can prevent deformities that could happen with Rheumatoid Arthritis / Psoriatic arthritis. Conditions with arthritis apart from being painful can also be life-threatening and affect multiple organs like lungs, heart, and kidneys. Thus not only is day-to-day life affected but life expectancy is reduced. A medical treatment and lifestyle modification with respect to diet, physical activity etc., along with repeated assessment to identify the progression of the disease improve clinical outcomes and brings down the economic burden for the care givers. It is also important to manage coexisting diseases in interaction with other specialists for a holistic approach.

It has been estimated that at least 6 CRORE people in India suffer from some kind of arthritis. In 2010 rheumatoid arthritis, has resulted in about 49,000 deaths globally. Patients have a 200% higher risk of Heart attacks, Almost 150% higher risk of Stroke, and a Higher risk of developing cancer, and overall their bodies age faster (they are 10 years older than their actual age) Depression is twice as common among patients with inflammatory arthritis compared to the general population.

Diseases with arthritis and Rheumatological Diseases are often neglected and assumed to be part of the aging process. This misconception leads to many people not even trying to get treatment for their condition. Hence on the occasion of World Arthritis Day on October 12th, 2024, we wanted to highlight that arthritis can be treated. Diseases causing arthritis and rheumatological disorders are shrouded by a lot of myths and misconceptions. The recent advances in the management of these diseases have made treatment easier and significantly improved the quality of life for treated patients tremendously. However, lack of awareness has led to underutilization of treatment both in public and private hospitals. This results in lots of needless misery and suffering to patients. Often they don't seek help at the appropriate time and suffer from damage due to the delay.

Treatment for rheumatoid arthritis, a common autoimmune arthritis, has been estimated to cost around 53,000 per year for patients. In addition to the financial burden directly due to the disease, since women are affected much more than men, the impact on family life can be profound. If the lady of the house is affected by chronic rheumatological disease, the entire family suffers, particularly children. Children or husbands need to take leave to accompany the lady to the hospital which leads to increased out-of-pocket expenditures, loss of working hours, and reduced productivity. The disease is cripplingly painful and causes significant interference in day-to-day activities. It is common for patients with arthritis to face social isolation and even job termination. In fact, research from India has shown that 3 out of 4 patients with rheumatoid arthritis faced reduced work capacity and 1 out of 5 had to permanently stop working altogether. As per the Karnataka Economic Burden Study done by Karnataka Rheumatologists: over half of rheumatoid arthritis patients took more than a year to see a specialist. They are spending a median of ₹50,000 before referral. Nearly half (48.1%) spend over 10% of their income on treatment, and 27.3% face catastrophic healthcare expenditure, spending more than 20% of their income. Hospitalization costs can reach an average of ₹ 30,000 per admission. Only 7% benefitted from government health schemes, and most bore their expenses out of pocket. The direct and indirect financial burden due to the disease needs to be borne by the patient and their family as the policy to cover diseases with arthritis by third-party payers (Insurance) remains unscientific, biased, and archaic. The majority of them are categorized as chronic and non-treatable. Hence, the current practices in insurance and health care delivery provisions in India have excluded patients with arthritis from reimbursement benefits, which are provided by the majority of third-party payers abroad. These reimbursement guidelines formulated many decades ago, need a total revamp considering the recent revolutionary therapeutic and management strategies. With the primary objective to sensitize the general public about the diseases that cause arthritis as well as other rheumatological disorders, doctors and patients started observing World Arthritis Day on the 12th Oct. every year. Many organizations around the world have activities on this day to increase awareness about these diseases.

At JSS hospital, Department of Clinical Immunology and Rheumatology was established on October 2011. It was the first in Medical College to offer Rheumatology services in Mysuru and surrounding districts. The department provides outpatient and inpatient services for management of autoimmune diseases like Rheumatoid Arthritis, Systemic Lupus Erythematosus, systemic sclerosis, Myositis, Tropical Rheumatology, Osteoarthritis, Gout etc., in various age groups. Pediatric Rheumatology patients also fall under our scope of services. As a Department, we have been catering to more than 1000 outpatients with Rheumatological problems per month along with approximately more than 100 inpatients per month at present. Patients from Mysuru and surrounding districts are being benefitted by our services.

Diagnostics such as specialized tests pertaining to the rheumatological diseases are done in co-ordination with Department of Microbiology for serological tests, Department of Pathology (for biopsies ESP nerve, muscle and salivary glands) and Department of Radiology (Targeted Ultrasound and Joint MRI). Research activities and opportunities include short term student projects by ICMR. Drug profiling in association with Clinical Pharmacy and Thesis guidance to medicine postgraduates along with interdepartmental activities are being actively carried out. The Department of Rheumatology faculty members strive to provide quality care to all patients. Drug monitoring, joint injections, Biological disease modifying agents, follow up and clinical trials are also undertaken by the department. We are now equipped with Nailfold Capillaroscope.

The department hopes to grow in numbers in terms of manpower, research activities and patient centric comprehensive care for Rheumatological problems so as to alleviate manifestations of diseases such that patients have a near normal professional and social life.

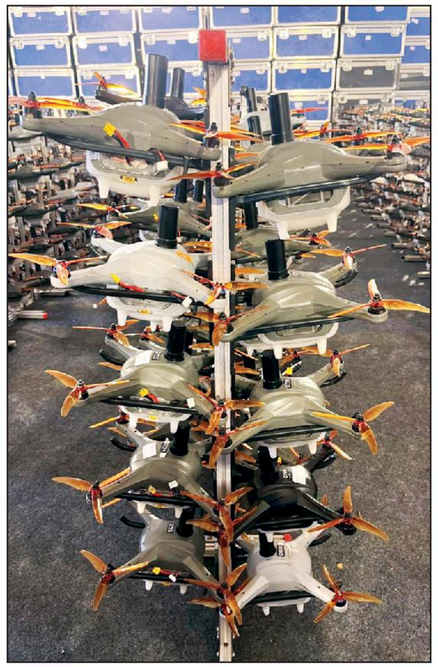
The force behind the DRONES

'Blaze' lights up heritage city's night skies

Kshitij Kaikeya, Business Development Executive, BotLab Dynamics, New Delhi, explaining about the drone.

Drones kept at the temporary docking station at St. Philomena's College Grounds in Bannimantap, which is close to the Torchlight Parade Grounds — the viewing area for the Dasara drone shows.



A closer view of the stacked up Blaze drones.

Mysuru, Oct. 9- With no Air Show, tourists and residents of the heritage city were a disappointed lot for being denied an opportunity to watch the metal birds fly past the sky. But then, the Dasara High Power Committee, headed by Dasara Special Officer and Deputy Commissioner (DC) G. Lakshmikanth Reddy and Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (CESC) Managing Director G. Sheela, held a brainstorming session to decide upon an event that could light up the skies. They came up with the idea to have a drone show, a spectacle in the sky.

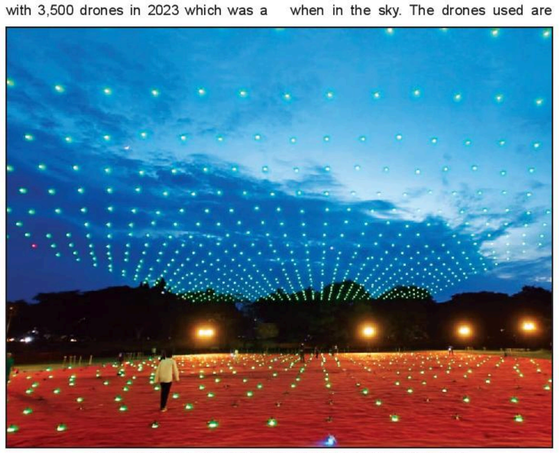
They decided to engage the services of BotLab Dynamics, a Delhi-based company that has experience in organising drone shows. BotLab Dynamics is not new to Dasara. They have been carrying out drone shows for the past two years in Mysuru but in a small scale with 250 drones. This year, they are using 1,500 drones making it a grand spectacle for the Nada Habba.

While the viewing area for the drone show is the Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap, the actually control centre is at St. Philomena's College Grounds. The drones take off from St. Philomena's Grounds and flies high enough for the people to view from the Torchlight Parade Grounds.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, BotLab Dynamics Business Development Executive Kshitij Kaikeya said that the first drone show for BotLab was during the Beating Retreat ceremony held on the occasion of Republic Day celebrations in 2022 with 1,000 drones followed by a show with 3,500 drones in 2023 which was a record at that time.

"This year, we created another record with 5,500 drones in Jamnagar for Anant Ambani's pre-wedding event," he said.

The animations that are created on skies are programmed and fed into the drones through a software which helps drones create the magic automatically when in the sky. The drones used are manufactured by BotLab including the hardware and software.



Drones taking off from St. Philomena's College Grounds.

Blaze is the name

The drones used for the shows are called 'Blaze' and earlier version was called 'Neo.' The company also plans to launch the updated version by the end of this year to replace the existing fleet. At present, the company has an inventory of 6,500 drones and for Dasara, about 1,500 drones are being used.

Swarm Technology is the secret

For drones to create the animation in the skies there is an extensive process. The animation team creates the storyboard and the show design. Later, the idea is shared with clients for feedback before finalising the design and sequence of animation.

On finalising the design and sequence, the programme is designed and sent into the drones' firmware through a laptop and from the firmware, the drones understand where it has to go and at what speed.

Once the drones take off, the rest is automatic including the creation of animation with the help of Swarm Technology.

One operator commands all drones

One would think 1,500 drones would need numerous operators, but it turns out all it takes in one operator. He is the person who decides on the flight sequence and is also responsible for deciding the take-off time for the show after considering the weather condition, testing of the on-ground setup and seating of the audience.

LED Colours

The drones are curated with Light Emitting Diodes (LED) which are capable of creating millions of colour combinations. Once the animation is finalised, the colour sequence is arranged for different animations through a programme which helps the drones understand the colour it has to produce in each formation.

GPS technology comes into play

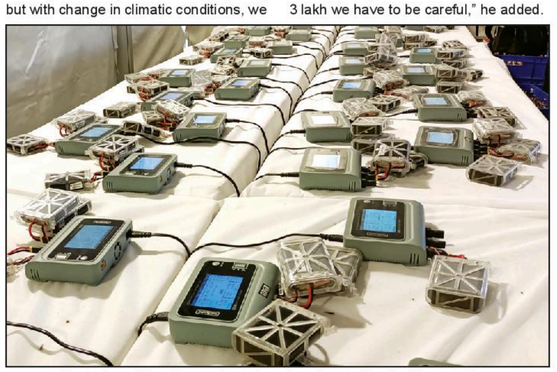
After programming is done, the drones, when in air need to maintain a certain distance between each other. This is achieved by a software and satellite communication that allows drones to be aware of their position in animation sequence in the sky.

Before take-off, the drones are tested for any defect. If the drones are fit to go and receiving signals, they will display a green light else a different colour is displayed in each drone to identify the exact problem using the colour code.

Weather is always a challenge

For conducting drones shows, even weather plays a key role. "On normal conditions, the event goes according to plans, but with change in climatic conditions, we request our client to either advance or postpone the event until the weather condition comes to normalcy," Kshitij said.

"After all, the drones are electronic equipment. There are chances of them not working after a certain time in the rain. The drones work fine when there is mild rain and breeze, but if there is heavy rain and wind, it cannot perform. So, we take precautions by accessing the weather condition before taking off. With each drone costing about Rs. 2.5 lakh to Rs. 3 lakh we have to be careful," he added.



Batteries of the drones kept for charging at the docking station.

Credit to CESC

Munigopal Raju

The Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) Limited, which has been illuminating the heritage city since its inception for Dasara, has added more glitter to the festival this year by organising a mega drone show. Speaking to SOM, M.K. Munigopal Raju, Director (Technical), CESC, credited the senior officials and staff for putting up a great show related to both illumination and drone shows.

"With the State Government celebrating Dasara on a grand scale, our DC wanted the CESC to come out with something special apart from the regular illumination. The senior officials of the CESC held a meeting under the leadership of our Chairman Rameshbabu Bandisiddegowda (who is also Srirangapatna MLA) and MD Sheela, under whose guidance we decided to organise drone shows on a mega scale and we are overwhelmed with the response from the public," he added.

Home Minister, wife pray at Chamundi Hill Temple

Dr. Parameshwara dismisses leadership change rumours; asks reporters not to read too much into casual meetings

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (RK&BCT)- Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara visited the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill this morning, accompanied by his wife Kannika Parameshwara, to offer special prayers.

The couple arrived at the temple complex around 7 am, along with Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) spokesperson H.A. Venkatesh, former MLA M.K. Somashekar, and others. After spending some time at the temple, the Home Minister and his wife departed for Bengaluru at approximately 8 am.

Speaking to reporters at Hotel Metropole regarding his last evening's meeting with Ministers Satish Jarkiholi and Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Dr. Parameshwara clarified that it was merely a courtesy visit and should not be misconstrued as being related to rumours of a leadership change in Karnataka.

"Jarkiholi was in town and we met at Chamarajanagar MP Sunil Bose's residence in Vijayanagar, where his father, Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, was also present. It was a casual dinner, but the media is unnecessarily portraying it as a meeting to discuss replacing Siddaramaiah as Chief Minister. All 136 Congress MLAs are united and Siddaramaiah is our leader," he said.

When reporters continued to press him about the details of the meeting, Dr. Parameshwara responded, "Please don't read too much into casual lunch, dinner or coffee meetings and avoid exaggerating the events."

City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar, Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP) (Law and Order) M. Muthuraju and DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi were present during the Home Minister's visit.

Accused No. 3, 4 to appear before Lokayukta

Devaraju is one of the three sons of Ninga, the original owner of the 3.16-acre land in Kesare (Survey Number 464), which he sold to Mallikarjunaswamy (Accused No. 3), the brother of Parvathi. Subsequently, Parvathi received this specific land as a gift from Mallikarjunaswamy.

The MUDA acquired this land without following the proper land acquisition process. When this came to light, Parvathi was allotted 14 alternative sites in the upscale Vijayanagar 3rd and 4th stages.

A4 Devaraju and A3 Mallikarjunaswamy are scheduled to appear before Lokayukta SP T.J. Udesh for questioning tomorrow. This will mark their first public appearance since the case emerged, as they prepare to face the media amid heightened scrutiny.

Lokayukta officials plan to question Devaraju and Mallikarjunaswamy together and separately to gather crucial information and land documents.

Investigators will likely delve into critical questions surrounding the acquisition and sale of land involved in the case, aiming to unravel the complex web of transactions.

Accused No. 3 in the case is Parvathi and Accused No. 1 is Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. It remains unclear when they will be summoned for questioning.

However, sources suggest that the Lokayukta Police may avoid summoning the CM and his wife to the Lokayukta Office due to security concerns and media scrutiny, preferring instead to question them at their residence.

Lokayukta officials are tight-lipped about their strategies. Typically, A1 and A2 are questioned first, but in this instance, A4 and A3 have been summoned ahead.

As the investigation gains momentum, the Lokayukta Police are under pressure to complete a comprehensive report within three months (by Dec. 24). They have finished collecting evidence from various departments, including MUDA, the Assistant Director of Land Records & Survey Settlement (ADLR) and the Taluk Office.

Actor Darshan's wife Vijayalakshmi visits Chamundi Hill temple

Vijayalakshmi

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (BLU&TRR)- Vijayalakshmi, wife of actor Darshan, who is now in Ballari jail over the sensational murder of Renukaswamy, visited Chamundi Hill temple in Mysuru yesterday evening along with actor Dhanveer and offered puja for her husband whose bail plea is being heard in a Bengaluru Court.

Darshan's counsel and senior advocate C.V. Nagesh had argued for two days seeking bail for his client. He claimed that Darshan was arrested on the basis of tampered evidence and he has been falsely implicated in the case and hence should be given bail as there is no evidence to prove that he had murdered Renukaswamy.

Yesterday, Special Public Prosecutor Prasanna Kumar argued in detail on behalf of the investigating Police and narrated how Darshan was actually involved in the murder. The argument was inconclusive and is being continued today.

It is in this connection, Vijayalakshmi visited Chamundi Hill temple yesterday and sought the blessings of the Goddess for Darshan's release.

Bang-on...

Third day of Yuva Dasara leaves youthful crowd craving for more

Mysuru, Oct. 9 (MK&BS)- Rapper Badshah held the mammoth gathering in his finger tips, with the non- stop entertainment, on the third day of Yuva Dasara, at the open grounds near Uttanahalli Outer Ring Road (ORR) yesterday evening.

Badshah of 'Bad Boy' album fame hit the stage in style, breaking through the fire flame, to the ticking sound of the clock, to the shrill whistles of the gathering.

He struck the audience with Dasara greetings, saying that he has come not to sing, but party with them, honestly admitting that, he is not just a singer, but a lyricist who infuses feelings to his songs, inviting the audience to join him in the course.

With the razzmatazz of DJ music, Badshah transcended the music buffs to a different world, who were left awestruck and shook their legs en masse, setting the mood for the evening.

For over one hour, the otherwise serene environs were filled with the bang of music, with the rendition of Ladki Beautiful, Yeh Pagal and other music albums.

The magic of Neene Rajakumaraa..., the all-time hit song from Puneeth Rajkumar-starrer Raajakumara, was recreated, paying a perfect tribute to the late actor, winning the heart of Kannadigas.

Earlier, noted playback singer Sangeetha Ravindranath set the mood with the reciting of the song 'Belakina Kavithe Bedagige Sothe...,' followed by 'Hrudayake Hedarike...' from the film Thaayige Takka Maga, Thoogu Manchadalli Koothu... from the film Kirik Party, Kannu Hodiyaka... from Robert.

Young singer Jaskaran Singh, the new found sensation, whose latest song 'Dwapara Datutha Nannane Nodalu...' from the film Krishnam Pranaya Sakhi is on the lips of music lovers, proved yet again, why he has played a cupid with his mellifluous singing talent.

ITF Mysuru Open - Women's World Tennis Tour

Smriti shock for fancied Delaunay

Top seed Shrivalli tested in opening match

India's Smriti Bhasin essays a two-handed backhand during her shock win over fifth-seeded Carolann Delaunay of New Caledonia at the ITF Women's World Tour event in Mysuru on Tuesday. Picture right shows Soha Sadiq (right) and partner Akanksha Nitture celebrate a point during their first round doubles win over Arzan Khorakiwala and Kashvi Sunil at the ITF Women's World Tour event in Mysuru yesterday.

Mysuru, Oct. 9- Unheralded Smriti Bhasin of India got the $15,000 ITF Women's World Tour event off to a rocking start with a stunning win over fifth-seeded Carolann Delaunay of New Caledonia in the first round of ITF Mysuru Open, Women's World Tennis Tour, at the Mysore Tennis Club courts, here yesterday.

The 21-year-old southpaw from Hyderabad, struggled early on, but once she found the rhythm and range, there was no stopping Smriti, who eventually scored a 4-6, 6-0, 6-2 victory. A little later, on a hot and humid day, top-seeded Shrivalli Rashmikaa Bhamidipaty of India survived mid-match blues before overcoming a fighting Sonal Patil 7-5, 6-1 in her opener.

Smriti, 21, whose season early on was hit by a knee injury, was tentative to start with, struggling to get first serves in. To make matters worse, she committed far too many errors to give Delaunay an easy ride.

The loss of the first set seemed to jolt Smriti out of her slumber. Once she began to slow down the pace of play and got her first serve percentage up, the Indian started to call the shots and pocketed the second set without dropping a game. Smriti didn't take the foot off the pedal in the decider and ran away a comfortable winner.

Soha-Akanksha pair wins

National champions Soha Sadiq and Akanksha Nitture of Karnataka breezed past Karnataka's wildcard pair of Kashvi Sunil and Arzan Khorakiwala 6-0, 6-1 in the first round of doubles action. Barring a brief resistance early in the second set, the fourth seeds were largely untroubled.
